GIFT GUIDE

GIFTS FOR SOCIAL IMPACT

This Buy Social initiative is part of our I AM SOCIAL campaign, in partnership with Social Enterprise Ghana (SE Ghana), and is aimed at encouraging Ghanaians to think about how their spending creates impact, while creating a market for social enterprises that are supporting Ghana to meet the Sustainable Development Goals, as well as growing the business sector and creating jobs.

In the rush to buy Christmas and festive gifts for loved ones, we want people to take a moment to think about where their hard earned money is going.

We have selected a range of social enterprises that offer something for everyone, each with their impact story to tell.

“you are investing in your loved ones, investing in your country and investing in deep social impact”

The British Council is the UK's international organisation for educational opportunities and cultural relations. We are on the ground in six continents and over 100 countries, bringing international opportunity to life.

Launched in 2009, the British Council's Global Social Enterprise (SE) programme currently runs in 28 countries and supports the development of socially innovative enterprises and investment model that facilitates a more inclusive, sustainable and prosperous future for all especially young people.

Together, we provide social entrepreneurs with access to training, mentoring and funding opportunities and promote social enterprise education in schools and universities. We convene policy dialogues, organise study tours and conduct research to share knowledge and best practice in scaling social enterprise and social investment. We also deliver international development projects that promote the growth of social enterprise. It is a systemic approach designed to help foster a more sustainable, inclusive and prosperous future and build collaboration, opportunities and trust between the UK and other countries.
